

WENCHI , AUGUST 2007

Amazing Love

The next day following the Dawadawa crusade, Evangelist Dag Heward-Mills led the crusade team to Wenchi, a large town in western Ghana, approximately 54kms from the border to Cote d'Ivoire.

Wenchi was the home of one of Ghana's prime ministers, Dr. Busia. We had the rare privilege to visit his mausoleum. We discovered how Wenchi was a stronghold of Islam and the Occult. This crusade saw multitudes gather that had never been seen in Wenchi before. To the non-Christians, this was a marvel.

Many miracles occurred; what was intended to be a two-day crusade was extended to three days! So much expectation was in the air by the third day. Several witches came to testify about their deliverance and on the last day, it seemed as though God decided to heal only Muslims!
